Morning Workshop 11:15 - The Difference Room: Mary Rose 2 Drawing on national work with the Department for Education, and schools across England, Jamie Rogers explores the evolving role of inclusion bases and how schools can move from policy to strong practice. This workshop will examine how inclusion bases can become a cornerstone of an effective whole-school inclusion strategy, moving beyond standalone provision to strengthen mainstream practice and improve outcomes for children and young people.
12.15 - 13.15 - Lunch - Hotel Restaurant & Exhibition Area
Afternoon Workshop 13:15 - Adaptive Practice Room: Mary Rose 1 Across Portsmouth, schools are developing innovative and effective approaches to inclusion. Through their work with settings across the city, Inclusion Advisers have gathered examples of inclusive practice that are supporting stronger inclusion, earlier intervention and improved outcomes for children and young people. This session will showcase highlights from across schools and settings, organised around common themes, areas of development and priorities emerging from the SEND reforms. Drawing on both local experience and evidence-informed approaches highlighted within current research, such as the Education Endowment Foundation (EEF) guidance reports, we will explore practical examples of how schools and settings are removing barriers to learning, strengthening belonging and developing inclusive provision.
